

YOU'LL GO "APE" OVER THIS ISSUE OF

OUR PRICE
25c
CHEAP

MAD

No. 94
April '65

Clarissa Peabody consulted "Sam Foureyes" when she found lipstick smears on her husband's shirt. Sam went to work, followed his client's husband, checked his daily activities, discovered that the lipstick was actually Clarissa's. Results: The Peabodys have given up wrestling. Another successful case closed by "Sam Foureyes". Call him at QU 3-1969.

Photography by Lester Krauss

Be suspicious!

When he starts working late at the office a lot,
And he takes more business trips than usual,
And he comes home reeking of cheap perfume,
And you discover that lipstick smear on his collar,
Don't shrink from the hard cold facts! It's time to call in • SAM FOUREYES •
Clever, eh—parodying a famous Fabric Processor's ad and turning it into a Well, that's exactly what Sam is . . . clever.

A clever Private Detective.

So if you've got problems with your husband like this lady,
Don't be a drip! Air your dirty linen to "Sam Foureyes".
Sam will get the goods on him!

MAD

"Many a girl in love with a cleft chin makes the mistake of marrying the whole man!"—Alfred E. Neuman

WILLIAM M. GAINES publisher ALBERT B. FELDSTEIN editor

JOHN PUTNAM art director LEONARD BRENNER production

JERRY DE FUCCIO, NICK MEGLIN associate editors

MARTIN J. SCHEIMAN lawsuits RICHARD BERNSTEIN publicity

GLORIA ORLANDO, CELIA MORELLI, NELSON TIRADO subscriptions

CONTRIBUTING ARTISTS AND WRITERS

the usual gang of idiots

DEPARTMENTS

BERG'S-EYE VIEW DEPARTMENT

The Lighter Side Of Kids' Parties.....36

COURT JESTING DEPARTMENT

Basketball Foto-Plays 34

CUPIDITY DEPARTMENT

MAD's Valentines To American Industry 4

DON MARTIN DEPARTMENT

"One Fine Day In The City".....17

"The Spectator" 33

ICE-ELATION DEPARTMENT

A MAD Look At Winter Sports 18

IT'S TRUE! BONDS DO HAVE MORE FUN DEPARTMENT

007—A MAD Musical 7

JOKE AND DAGGER DEPARTMENT

Spy Vs. Spy 23, 26

Spy Vs. Spy Vs. Spy 42

LETTER DEPARTMENT

Random Samplings Of Reader Mail 2

MARGINAL THINKING DEPARTMENT

Drawn-Out Dramas **

NO SALE DEPARTMENT

TV Commercials—And Some Folks Who Couldn't Care Less...40

SCHOOLS RUSH IN... DEPARTMENT

Famous People's Home-Study Courses 13

SICK-SICK-SLICK DEPARTMENT

Neurotic Magazine 27

SIGNING-OFF DEPARTMENT

The Prophet 6

SOFTENING THE BLOW-UPS DEPARTMENT

Specific Form Answer-Letters There Really Ought To Be.....20

TALK OF THE TOWNS DEPARTMENT

The Sights And Sounds Of The U.S.A.—Ft. Worth, Texas.....24

WHAT TIME DOES THE BABOON GO UP? DEPARTMENT

Son Of Mighty Joe Kong 43

Various Places Around The Magazine

007

A
MAD
MUSICAL
Pg. 7

FAMOUS PEOPLE'S HOME-STUDY COURSES
Pg. 13

SIGHTS AND SOUNDS OF
FT. WORTH,
TEXAS
Pg. 24

NEUROTIC
MAGAZINE
A MAD
PUBLICATION
Pg. 27

THE LIGHTER
SIDE OF KIDS'
PARTIES
Pg. 36

SON OF MIGHTY
JOE KONG
Pg. 43

ON A SHELF-DESTRUCTION KICK?

FILL YOUR LIBRARY WITH THE EXPLOSIVE LAUGHTER FOUND IN THESE 20 "BOMB" MAD PAPERBACK BOOKS

AT YOUR FAVORITE BOOKSTAND—OR YOURS BY MAIL

MAD
POCKET DEPARTMENT
850 Third Avenue,
New York, N. Y. 10022

Name _____
 Address _____
 City _____
 State _____ Zip-Code _____

PLEASE SEND ME: ☐ MAD in Orbit ☐ I ENCLOSE 35¢

ALSO PLEASE SEND ME:

- | | | |
|---|---|--|
| ☐ The MAD Reader | ☐ The Organization MAD | ☐ Three Ring MAD |
| ☐ MAD Strikes Back | ☐ Like MAD | ☐ The Self-Made MAD |
| ☐ Inside MAD | ☐ The Ides of MAD | ☐ Don Martin Steps Out |
| ☐ Utterly MAD | ☐ Fighting MAD | ☐ Don Martin Bounces Back |
| ☐ The Brothers MAD | ☐ The MAD Frontier | ☐ Dave Berg Looks At The U.S.A. |
| ☐ The Bedside MAD | ☐ The Voodoo MAD | |
| ☐ Son of MAD | ☐ Greasy MAD Stuff | |

I ENCLOSE 50¢ FOR EACH

LETTERS DEPT.

IMAGE OF U.S. JUSTICE

Congratulations to Al Jaffee for another great "MAD Fold-In"—"The Image of U.S. Justice". I wonder if anybody burned a cross in front of your office building.

Steve Blumrich
 Huntsville, Alabama

Congratulations on having the courage to print it. Your magazine is truly the conscience of us all. You deserve only praise.

Mrs. Dan Di Biasio
 Cleveland, Ohio

RUINED IMAGE

I found your "Letters From Santa Claus in" #92 the most disgusting display of crudeness I have ever read. It completely ruins the image of Santa Claus for the younger set. I have always enjoyed your magazine, but you lowered yourselves considerably when you printed this garbage.

Gary Harrison
 Edmonds, Washington

HAIL THAT TIGER

On behalf of all the employees of Humble Oil, Bala Cynwyd Division, I want to congratulate you on the marvelous satire on your back cover of the January issue (#92) based on our beloved tiger.

Rita Petrushansky
 Philadelphia, Penna.

It's about time someone did something for the poor, defenseless tiger who lately has been so exploited by "Big Business".

A 3/c John E. Rosiak
 Wiethersfield A.F.B., England

A HUMOROUS EXCHANGE

This past Summer, I traveled over a great deal of Europe as an Exchange Student. The hardest task for an Exchange Student, I think, is to make friends and to promote good will and understanding between the people of his country and the country he is residing in. With language barriers, it is sometimes a very slow and difficult process. Yet, armed with copies of MAD Magazine, a paperback edition of "Don Martin Bounces Back" and a smile, I have had more fun and made more friends through the universal language of humor and laughter than I could possibly have done otherwise. MAD, from its satirical heights to its most ridiculous lows is, without a doubt, the best propaganda America has to offer.

Steve Emerick
 Fulfswe, Germany

On orders Outside the U.S.A., add 10% Extra! We cannot be responsible for cash lost or stolen in the mails. Check or Money Order preferred!

MAD AT G.M. FUTURAMA

Recently, while visiting the New York World's Fair, I noticed a model of a building in the General Motors' Futurama exhibit which seemed vaguely familiar. As I recall, several years ago, Dave Berg designed a similar building for an article describing the eventual move back to the cities from the suburbs. Is this a mere coincidence, or a copy of Dave's original concept? In any case, all I can say is "How 'bout that?"

Thomas A. Reiches
New Rochelle, N.Y.

G.M.'s Futurama Building

Berg's FuturaMAD Building

LARGER DISTRIBUTION

How any newspaper-reading American can stand daily life without the occasional relief of MAD Magazine, I just cannot understand. It seems to me that if there was a larger distribution of your magazine, there would be a sharp drop in the number of neurotics, paranoids and suicides running around our cities.

Christine Eberhardt
St. Louis, Missouri

So who's gonna buy our magazine?—Ed.

SHAKESPEARE UP-TO-DATE

... such apt and gracious words ...
(Love's Labour Lost II, 1, 73)
... and I did laugh sans intermission ...
(As You Like It II, 7, 30)
Though this be madness, yet there is method in't.
(Hamlet, II, 2, 211)
A kind of excellent dumb discourse.

(The Tempest III, 3, 38)
I can no other answer make but thanks,
And thanks, and ever thanks.

(Twelfth Night III, 3, 14)
Ellen Leef Weiss
New York City

SHAKESPEARE AND PHONY

Let me say, in all sincerity, that the feature entitled "Shakespeare Up-To-Date" was the best satirical article I have ever read anywhere in my whole life. I wonder if it was necessary, however, for you to identify the exact source of each of the quotations used—surely I'm not the only MAD reader who knows all the lines by heart. Anyway, it was a tribute to the Immortal Bard, and I for one appreciate it deeply. At the same time, something I did not approve of in Issue #92 was the so-called feature, "PHONY Magazine". Was this supposed to be funny? This piece left me completely unamused.

G. Alan Robison, B.S.
Vanderbilt University
Nashville, Tennessee

Perhaps you may have been amused by the item we left out of "Phony Magazine"—referring to the phonies who claim they know all the lines of Shakespeare by heart.—Ed.

THE CARPETSWEEPERS

"The Carpsweepers" was great! Unfortunately, the film it satirized was much funnier. You did your best, but Mr. Joseph Levine was finally one step ahead of you. I love ya, anyway.

Doris Francis
St. Albans, N.Y.

"IN" AND "OUT"

Congratulations to Arnie Kogen and Paul Coker, Jr. for "The MAD 'IN' And 'OUT' Book" in Issue #92. After reading it, I was in stitches, mainly because I did the "Limbo" under barbed wire.

Alex Lampone
Wast Allis, Wisconsin

Doing the "Limbo" under barbed wire is "Out"! Doing the "Fish" under water is "In"!—Ed.

WE'RE CRESTFALLEN

MAD Magazine has been shown to be an effective intelligence-preventative oracle of insignificant value...even when used in a conscientiously applied program of psychiatric hygiene and regular professional care.

Steve Conlin
North Hollywood, Calif.

Please address all correspondence to:
MAD, Dept. 94, 850 Third Avenue
New York, New York 10022

ARE YOU BUGGED BY THE LITTLE MONSTERS WHO CLEAN EVERY COPY OFF THE NEWSSTANDS?

WASH AWAY YOUR TROUBLES!

SUBSCRIBE TO

MAD

AND GET 9 ISSUES FOR THE PRICE OF 8,
OR 24 ISSUES FOR THE PRICE OF 20—
MAILED RIGHT TO YOUR HOME!

-----use coupon or duplicate-----

MAD SUBSCRIPTIONS
850 Third Avenue
New York City, N. Y. 10022

That Duz it! Your Ad is right! I am Tide of the Wisk involved in that MAD Dash to the newsstand, so I'm taking Action! Now, I'll be getting all of your Fab issues right Cheer at home...by mail!

- ☐ I enclose $2.00.* Please enter my name on your subscription list, and mail me the next 9 issues of MAD
- ☐ I enclose $5.00. Please enter my name on your subscription list, and mail me the next 24 issues of MAD!

NAME _____

ADDRESS _____

CITY _____

STATE _____ Zip Code _____

*Outside U.S.A., $2.50. Outside U.S.A., $6.25.
Please allow 8 weeks for your subscription to be processed. We cannot be responsible for cash lost or stolen in the mails.
Check or Money Order preferred.

LOST & FOUND

Yep, we've lost a fortune on these offers of full-color portraits of Alfred E. Neuman, MAD's "What-Me Worry?" kid, for 25¢ (3 for 50¢)—and we just found out why... Seems nobody's ordering any from: MAD, Dept. "What-Color?", 850 Third Avenue, New York, New York 10022.

To The TV Networks!

Oh, Valentine, your shows this year
Cannot be beat for dumbness;
Because of you, our senses reel;
Our minds are filled with numbness;

And yet it's sort of nice to know
That viewers 'cross the nation
Can all enjoy your shows with just a pre-school education!

And yet it's sort of nice to know
That viewers 'cross the nation
Can all enjoy your shows with just
a pre-school education!

ARTIST: MORT DRUCKER

*Your new electric toothbrush just Destroyed Ma's upper plate;
Your new electric blanket just Ignited Uncle Nate;
Your new electric mixer won't
Let go of little Sue;
Each day we're finding brand-new things
Appliances can do!*

ARTIST: DON MARTIN

Valentine's Day is a time to show feelings of love and affection. And who is more worthy of receiving our love than the folks who receive all of our money . . . namely American Industry. So, with this heartfelt sentiment to guide us, let us now demonstrate our affection with . . .

Your dresses hang like burlap sacks,
Your coats are a disgrace,
Your hats might well have been designed
For use in outer space,
Before you make up next year's styles
To sell your faithful harem—
Please have some pity on us guys
Who have to watch girls wear 'em!

ARTIST: JACK BICKARD

To The

Telephone System:

We once adored you, Valentine,
But now you've made us sore—
With numbers like six-one-five-nine-
Four-two-eight-six-three-four;
We feel that we've been led astray,
You've treated us so sloppily;
But that's the price we have to pay
When using a monopoly!

ARTIST: PAUL COKER JNR.

To The MAKERS OF HEADACHE REMEDIES:

Whenever we have headache ills,
We try to end our sufferin'
With aspirin and other pills
Like Anacin and Bufferin;
But, Valentine, we must endure
The pains, because you see—
We get the headaches watching your Commercials on TV!

ARTIST: BOB CLARKE

MAD's Valentines to American Industry

WRITER: FRANK JACOBS

To The Automobile Companies:

You give your cars real fancy names
Like Tempest, Riviera;

Like Comet, Skylark, Galaxie,
LeSabre and Polara;

Your names are helpful, Valentine,
Because each year we're learning—

The fancier a car is named,
The more gas it is burning!

ARTIST: GEORGE WOODBRIDGE

THE PROPHET

IT'S TRUE! BONDS DO HAVE MORE FUN DEPT.

There's a new trend on Broadway these days—which is to make musicals based on great British literary figures. First there was "Camelot", based on the story of King Arthur... then there was "Oliver", based on Charles Dickens' novel "Oliver Twist"... and this fall, there is "Baker Street", based on the adventures of Sherlock Holmes. That's why we at MAD feel that it's only a matter of time before Broadway does a musical on the most sure-fire British literary hero of all. We mean, of course, James Bond, Special Agent 007, of the British Secret Service, the creation of the late Ian Fleming. Perhaps someday there may be a real James Bond musical. But until then, you'll just have to put up with a MAD James Bomb musical, which we've titled:

007

ACT I, SCENE 1: THE LONDON HEADQUARTERS OF THE BRITISH SECRET SERVICE

ARTIST: MORT DRUCKER

WRITER: FRANK JACOBS

*Sung to the tune of "Oh, What A Beautiful Mornin'!"

Miss Moneypenney, please order lunch for us! I'll have a tuna fish on rye and a glass of milk! What'll it be for you, 007?

Just a snack, Sir! I'll start off with a chilled oyster bouillon, followed by filet of venison charred lightly over a one-quarter inch flame and covered with braised mushroom tips. And I'll have a bottle of Chateaufort de Neuman chilled to 11 degrees centigrade!

Blast it, 007! Must you always act so suave and sophisticated? Just once, can't you be a normal, dull, boring, uncouth slob like the rest of us?

Sorry, sir. But my fans expect it of me! You see, there are all those James Bomb books and technicolor movies—

Precisely my point, 007! And now, every enemy of England knows your trade marks—your obsession with fine foods, your success with beautiful women, your coolness at the gambling tables, your utter disregard of danger...

007, you're the last hope of the British Empire! We've lost India! We've lost Africa! We've lost Richard Burton and Hayley Mills! All we have left are the Beatles and you! So heed my advice:

* Don't risk your life so much! Don't fight each thug you see! You might... catch a slug, you see! England must keep you alive!

Don't woo each girl you meet! She might be Red, you know! You might... wind up dead, you know! England must keep you alive!

Neatly sung, Sir! Have you ever considered a career on the music-hall stage?

Don't speed so fast, my boy! Use both your hands when you drive! Your luck... may not last, my boy! England must keep you alive!

*Sung to the tune of "People Will Say We're In Love"

Silence! I have another chorus!

Don't jump from speeding trains! Don't fall on live grenades! You might... not survive grenades! England must keep you alive!

Don't fight with hatchet fiends! You've got to use your head! One slip... and you'll lose your head! England must keep you alive!

Don't get in fights tonight—When you're alone in some dive! You might... get last rites tonight! England must keep you alive!

Well done, Sir! But surely you didn't summon me here for a song fest! We are being threatened by some master criminal who heads a secret powerful organization bent on murder and destruction, aren't we?

Precisely! Tell me... have you ever heard of a chap called "SNOWMAN"?

Doesn't he head a fiendish crime syndicate called "ICECUBE", which stands for International Conspiracy to Eliminate, Contaminate and Undermine the British Empire?

That's the bloke!
He lives in North Greenland, in a mammoth igloo guarded by 10,000 trained eskimos! So far, "Snowman" has killed Agents 001 through 006 in consecutive numerical order! And you know what, 007 . . . ?

No!
What,
Sir?

Well, I think you may be next!

We know that
"Snowman" is planning something big, but we don't know what!

Excuse me, Sir, but the Weather Bureau reports that the entire British Isles has begun moving steadily towards Greenland at a speed of 50 miles an hour!

Did you hear that,
007?

Sounds like the work of "Snowman" all right! I'll start my investigation immediately by flying to a plush hotel on the French Riviera for a week of gambling and woman-chasing!

Good show,
007!
"Snowman" will never dream that you are on to him!

ACT 1, SCENE 2: A LONDON STREET

I am Commander James Bomb, and I am off on what may prove to be the most dangerous, exciting, passionate adventure of my entire career!

Take me with you!

Me!

No, take me!

Me!

Me!

My name is Tasti Delight, and I killed every one of those girls back there so I could be with you, Commander Bomb! I just adore this car! It's a souped-up '34
Bentley with an overdrive unit fitted behind the transmission, hydraulic brakes, and a 9-to-1 compression ratio, isn't it?

Yes, but I actually bought it for its vertically mounted high-tensile steel ashtray, its silver-plated hand-tooled ignition key, and the hand-woven, vat-dyed, triple-twist
Indian Hemp seat covers!

* Chaps and blokes observe me intently
When I take a spin in my Bentley,
When I take a spin in my Bentley
With the blonde . . . up front!

Watch that gauge and see how we're zipping!
Shift those gears and hear how they're stripping!
I must say it's all rather ripping—
Such a care-free stunt!

The aerial's flying the Union Jack—
It waves when the wind starts to fan ya!
The wheels are turning, while in the back,
The stereo plays "Rule Britannia!"

Hear the chaps all shout "How impressive!"
When I drive at speeds so excessive!
Speeding makes me look so aggressive
When I'm on the hunt
In my jolly little Bentley
With the blonde—in the front!

I know a deserted road nearby where we can neck passionately!

Actually, I should be getting to the Riviera!
Still—I must maintain my reputation as a cool, suave ladies' man, so let us proceed to that deserted road . . .

*Sung to the tune of "The Surrey With The Fringe On Top"

I shall never forget this delicious, fragrant, intoxicating moment as long as I live, Darling!

Er—could you be a little less passionate? You're creasing my shoulder holster . . . !

All right, Bomb! On your feet! That'll be enough out of you!

We've finally trapped you, Agent 007!

We'd kill you now, except our boss wants the pleasure of destroying you himself!

Eskimos!! And in England! This must be the work of "SNOWMAN"!!!

Why did you lure me here, Tasti? What strange power does "Snowman" have over you? Did he force you to betray me? Is he perhaps holding your parents captive and won't release them until you help to capture me? Is it something like that?

No, James! Actually, I'm just no good!

And now, Bomb, we're taking you to Greenland—to "Snowman" in his headquarters in Glacier City . . . !

Couldn't we go to the Riviera instead? We'd all have a wizard of a time at Monte Carlo!

Don't be silly! You will love Glacier City!

We all love it! Mainly because . . .

* Everything's really cool in Glacier City! There is no better place on Earth we know! No matter what the season, You'll always beat the heat—The temperature is 35 below!

Everything's frozen stiff in Glacier City! The streets up there are paved with Arctic snow! A frozen walrus dinner Sells for 20 cents a slice! A fricassee of polar bear Is also mighty nice! And if you throw a party, you Just can't run out of ice!

There is no better place on Earth we know!

I don't know! It sounds rather gauche to me! I still think we'd have a much better time at Monte Carlo or Capri!

No, sir! There is no better place on Earth we know!

However, I'm always open to suggestions for new spots to holiday at—especially when there are machine guns ready to convince me! Let's go!

ACT II, SCENE 1: SNOWMAN'S MAMMOTH IGLOO IN GLACIER CITY

I am a civilized man, Commander Bomb—which is why I asked you to join me for dinner before I finish my evil, insidious plan of destruction! I trust you are enjoying your last meal . . . !

The asparagus is a trifle stringy, and the Hollandaise sauce a bit bland, and I don't approve of your choice of wines—but otherwise I am reasonably satisfied! Now tell me—what horrible fate have you in store for me and my country?

Do you see that machine out there, Bomb? That is no ordinary machine! It is an atomic generator with a pulling power of 50 billion tons! During the past year, I have looped an unbreakable cable around the British Isles . . . and now my atomic generator is pulling them Northward at the rate of 50 miles an hour . . . !

You're mad, Snowman! If your scheme succeeds, great Britain will be pulled into the Arctic Circle! It will be covered with ice and snow! No one will be able to live there! The Secret Service will be disbanded and my dazzling career will be ended! Why are you doing this? Why do you hate England so much?

There are a number of reasons! To begin with, I didn't like Peter Sellers' last film! I also can't stand Yorkshire Pudding, cricket, and Commander Whitehead! But mainly—I can't stand YOU!

Take off that white hood so I can see who you really are!

Oh, no! Not YOU!!

Yes—it's me . . . Mike Hammer! Once upon a time I was the most successful and popular character in mystery fiction! But then you came along—and you were so suave, so sophisticated, so debonair that the public no longer went for a simple brutal violent slob like me! But they'll come back to me now! Because, in a few hours, England will be a snowy waste, and you, James Bomb, will be a nothing!!

I can see it now . . .

* Poor Bomb is through! Poor James Bomb is through! No pretty girls are breaking down his door! They've gone and left him flat, 'Cause he's gotten old and fat! His make-out days are through forever more!

Poor Bomb is through! Poor James Bomb is through! We've seen the very last of his career! He's lost his thrilling job! Now he's just another slob! We'll soon forget that he was ever here!

Poor Bomb is through! He's feeling mighty blue! He'll never get to shoot another Red! He's trying to adjust, But his gun is full of rust! For all he cares he might as well be dead!

*Sung to the tune of "Poor Jud Is Daid"

Me—James Bomb a has-been!? We'll bloody well see about that!

Oh, James, dearest! Take me with you while you make your usual daring escape!

This passageway must lead to the atomic generator!

Yes, James, my love, but it's guarded by 10,000 eskimos! The odds are so unfair!

That's true, but the eskimos will just have to take their chances!

Press the button while I hold off these fools, Tasti!

All right, James, darling . . . and then we can make our escape in a kayak that I conveniently tied up in a secret cove only a few yards from here . . . !

ACT II, SCENE 2: THE LONDON HEADQUARTERS OF THE BRITISH SECRET SERVICE

. . . and that's the whole story, sir! It certainly is good to be home again—except I don't understand why England is now so blasted hot!

Backlash, 007! "Snowman" was pulling England northward—but when you released the cable, it sent England heading southward again . . . only we overshot our original position and are now situated on the equator!

Sorry, sir! I guess I blew it!

Mistakes will happen, 007! Actually, I was getting deucedly tired of the infernal British fog and damp weather! As far as I'm concerned, the case is closed . . . except for one last thing . . .

And what's that, Sir?

Why the closing number, of course! Thanks to you, 007, Great Britain is still here! Which is why the entire population of the British Isles wants to sing the Grand Finale to you . . .

* Ohhhhhhhhhhh-0-7!
Is the greatest spy there is today!
Though the Empire's gone,
He keeps right on—
So you'd bet-ter not get in his way!

Ohhhhhhhhhhh-0-7,
We adore his looks and manly build!
When the going's rough,
He's got the stuff!
And he nev-ver let's himself be killed!

We know in a fight he will win!
'Cause he wins every fight he is in!

And that is why—
When bullets start to fly—
You'll hear us crying:
"You'll never die, 0-0-7!
0-0-7—
Our spy!"

*Sung to the tune of "Oklahoma!"

IIIQr
DRUCKER

SCHOOLS RUSH IN . . . DEPT.

Have you noticed the interesting money-making schemes that grace the pages of our magazines nowadays? A group of famous people in a particular field get together and form a correspondence school to teach hopefuls who want to enter that field some of the tricks of the trade. First came the "Famous Artists School"—then came "The Famous Writers School"—followed by "The Famous Cartoonists School"—and now "The Famous Photographers School." If this trend keeps up, we should be seeing some rather unusual

Famous People's Home-Study Courses

ARTIST: BOB CLARKE
WRITER: AL JAFFEE

FIRST "FAMOUS PEOPLE'S HOME-STUDY COURSE"

"We're looking for people who like to draw"

By ALBERT DORNE
Famous Magazine Illustrator

Do you like to draw or paint? If you do—America's 12 Most Famous Artists are looking for you. We'd like to help you find out if you have talent worth developing. Here's why we make this offer. More than a decade ago, my colleagues and I realized that too many people were missing wonderful careers in art . . . either because they hesitated to think they had talent . . . or because they couldn't get top-notch professional art training without leaving home or giving up their jobs.

A Plan to Help Others

We decided to do something about this. First, we pooled the rich, practical experience, the professional know-how, and the precious trade secrets that helped us reach the top. Then—illustrating this knowledge with over 5,000 special drawings and paintings—we created a complete course of art training that folks all over the country could take right in their own homes and in their spare time. This course is accredited by the Accrediting Commission, National Home Study Council, Washington, D. C., a nationally recognized accrediting agency.

Our training has helped thousands of men and women win the creative satisfactions and the cash rewards of part-time or full-time art careers. Here are just a few. Herb Smith was a payroll clerk. Soon after he started studying with us, he landed an art job with a large printing firm. This was four years ago; today he's head artist for the same firm.

Helps Design New Cars

Halway through our training, Don Coleman of Detroit landed a job in the styling department of a major automobile company. Now he helps design new car models. "Your course has been the difference between failure and success for me," writes Robert Meecham of Ontario, Canada. "I've come from an $18.00 a week apprentice to a $100 a month on my own house, two cars, and hold stock in two companies."

John Whitaker of Memphis was an airline clerk when he began studying with us. Recently, a huge syndicate signed him to do a daily comic strip.

Earns Seven Times as Much

Eric Erickson of Minneapolis was a clerk when he enrolled with us. Now, he heads an advertising-art studio business and earns seven times his former salary.

Elizabeth Lincoln—mother of six—now teaches art classes in her Massachusetts home. She's building a tidy nest egg for the education of her children.

Cowboy Starts Art Business

Donald Kern—a Montana cowboy—studied with us. Now he paints portraits, sells them for $250 each. And he gets all the business he can handle.

Gertrude Vander Pool had never drawn a thing until she started studying with us. Now a swank New York gallery exhibits her paintings for sale.

Free Art Talent Test

How about you? Wouldn't you like to find out if you have talent worth training for a full-time or part-time art career? Simply send us your revealing 12-page talent test. Thousands paid $1 for this test, but we'll send it to you free. If you show promise, you'll be eligible for at-home training under the program we direct. No obligation. Mail the coupon today.

America's 12 Most Famous Artists

Famous Artists Schools Studio 5883, Westport, Conn.

I want to find out if I have art talent worth developing. Please send me, without obligation, your Famous Artists Talent Test.

Mr. / Miss / Mrs. _____
Address _____
City _____ State _____
Country _____

LATEST "FAMOUS PEOPLE'S HOME-STUDY COURSE"

Ten famous photographers start home-study course

Now—no matter where you live—you can "apprentice" yourself to the most successful photographers of our time

If you want to win artistic or professional success with your camera—here is an opportunity never before available. Ten of the world's greatest photographers have joined together to create a professional-level course in photography to help you develop your skill, judgment, and confidence—step by step, to put you on the track for solving success and recognition.

The training will be supervised by Philippe Halsman, great portraitist, creator of over 50 LIFE covers; Richard Avedon, world's highest paid fashion photographer; Ezra Stoller, Frank Lloyd Wright's favorite architectural photographer; Alfred Eisenstein, master of photo-journalism, dean of LIFE photographers; Joseph Coen, "Mr. Post Photographer" for 40 notable years; Irving Penn, brilliant war hero and great photographer; whose work hangs in great art museums; Bert Stern, winner of Art Directors' top award for last 8 years; Arthur D'Arban, country's most sought-after industrial photographer; Richard Rustin, leader in advertising and commercial photography; Harry Gerfield, America's most successful photographer of children.

These distinguished men have applied to photography—for the first time—a principle which has been proved time and again: If you want success, learn from successful people. The ten famous photographers spent three "wordy" but instructive sketches detailing suggestions for improving your artistic composition, lighting, camera viewpoint, etc. Then in writing you a long personal letter containing further detailed guidance and advice, each one of your assignments. All of his suggestions are directed to your individual needs and goals in photography. In short, you're trained as a class of one.

This method of instruction was pioneered with great success by the Famous Artists Schools and Famous Writers School, pioneer organizations of the new photography school. During the past fifteen years, these schools have trained thousands of men and women all over the U.S. and in 56 foreign countries for successful careers in art and writing.

Course praised by experts—tested by professionals, guaranteed. The new Famous Photographers Course has already won wide acclaim from editors, art directors, photography buyers.

And Patrick, editor of Holiday says: "There just aren't enough photographers who meet our standards. We look for them; we would choose them; but with one exception, they are not to be found. That's why we're great with such enthusiasm the launch of the Famous Photographers School. Your students will have our careful attention."

Several months ago, a panel of professional "magazines" and service agencies tested a single-day lesson of the new course and reported marked improvement. "I didn't realize there was so much I could learn about myself photography," wrote camera expert Chester Brownell of Dallas, Calif. "After ten years of frustration," wrote another editor, D. W. Collins, "at last, I see hope of success in photography."

Photography offers real satisfaction and substantial rewards to the skilled full-time or part-time photographer. Nearly 15 million people are buying in a year. It is estimated that first photographers alone earn more than $10 million dollar each year.

If you are interested in starting in these rewarding and challenging—the School will be glad to send you a copy of the 48-page booklet describing to you course. The booklet is illustrated with handsome color and black-and-white photographs by the top famous photographers. To receive the booklet without cost or obligation, merely mail the coupon provided below.

Famous Photographers School Studio 5883, Westport, Conn.

Please send me, without obligation, the 48-page booklet describing your new course.

Mr. / Miss / Mrs. _____
Address _____
City _____ State _____
Country _____

Send no money. We'll send you the booklet free.

Several months ago, a panel of professional "magazines" and service agencies tested a single-day lesson of the new course and reported marked improvement. "I didn't realize there was so much I could learn about my-

When the field of illustration was killed by photography, a group of desperate illustrators introduced a home-study course with advertisements that stressed the money-making opportunities for artists. This proved to be true—as the swelling bank accounts of the school's founders will show.

When photography replaced illustration, anyone who could snap a shutter got into the act. The field is now crowded and competition is fierce. Seeing the handwriting on the wall, several apprehensive photographers are now trying the same trick that saved some of their former victims.

TO SEE WHAT WILL HAPPEN AS OTHER GROUPS GET INTO THE ACT, TURN PAGE AND HOLD MAGAZINE

SIDEWAYS LIKE THIS:

Ten famous butchers start home-study course

Now—the most exciting, secure vocation this country can offer

If you are too young to remember World War II, a little research will quickly reveal that the most powerful, most sought-after person on the home front was the family butcher. No one ate better or made more money in what has come to be remembered nostalgically as “The Black Market”. In fact, so much meat was sold under the counter in those days that three out of four butchers developed permanent curvature of the spine from bending down so much.

Now, with war a constant threat, the butcher’s big day could return at any moment. You wouldn’t want to miss out on all that, would you? And even if there is no war, you won’t find a healthier, more secure bunch than butchers. Their average weight of 238 pounds will attest to this, because every pound comes from eating prime cuts—the kind their customers never get to see.

So plan on starting your own business as a butcher today. Write now for this marvelous course. It comes in 18 Easy-To-Follow Lessons, and we even supply the special leakproof bags for you to ship your homework to us in.

Famous Butchers School
Dept. 85, Hamhock, Illinois
 Name
 Address
 City State

Ten famous celebrities start home-study course

Now—you can be famous without doing a single outstanding thing

Up until now, becoming famous was limited to those individuals who accomplished something of great distinction, either through years of hard work, or by the application of rare talent. But now at last, you can become famous without doing one single thing to deserve it. Proof that this can be accomplished is graphically demonstrated by the ten famous members of our faculty. Every one of them is a celebrity for no apparent reason that anyone can think of. Now if they can do it, why can’t you?

Yes, let these eminently qualified experts in this field teach you how. The course they present is simplicity itself. Everything our famous founders stand for — everything they know — everything they’ve done to deserve their fame has been compressed into one single easy-to-learn lesson. In fact, it’s been compressed into one single easy-to-learn word. Aren’t you dying to learn that one word that can start you on the road to fame and fortune? Write today!

Famous Celebrities School
Dept. 39, Hooyoono, Pa.
 Name
 Address
 City State

Ten famous millionaires start home-study course

Now—no matter how wretched or poor a slob you are—you can learn to live like a millionaire

How often have you dreamed of being a millionaire—of enjoying the same experiences and prestige and security that millionaires enjoy? Well, now you don't need a million dollars to attain all this. Let these ten famous millionaires teach you everything they know by mail. A modest fee, in 75 monthly installments, will bring you all the intimate details. You will learn how millionaires live, eat, sleep and play through this remarkable home-study course. For example, Lesson #9 is a full-length color movie depicting the pleasure domes that millionaires frequent. Watching this is like going on a vacation you never dreamed you could afford. And Lesson #17 contains full-size cardboard color prints of the interiors of millionaire mansions. Pasted onto your shabby walls, you will feel what millionaires feel as they sit amid resplendant luxury. And Lesson #28 is a stereophonic tape of a gala millionaire party. You hear the actual voices of the people with whom millionaires socialize—people making clever, witty, wealthy talk. Doesn't that sound splendid? And just think: If you do happen to become a millionaire through some trick of fate, you'll be able to slide right into it so much more gracefully after taking this wonderful course. Enroll today.

Famous Millionaires School
Box 9, Uppercrust, R. I.

Name
Address
City State

Ten famous space travellers start home-study course

Now—no matter what your physical condition—you can learn to conquer space

If you want to experience the thrill of space travel and the consequent glamour of ticker tape parades in your honor, then this course is for you. Let ten famous space travelers teach you the intimate first-hand details right in your own home ... and in only 12 easy lessons. So easy, in fact, that many of our best students are under 12 years of age. And it's pleasant, too. No tiresome months of backbreaking exercise. No endless hours of sickening testing and training. No monotonous diets of space food. Just one half hour a day does the trick with this marvelous course. After 12 weeks, you will know everything that many of our famous space travelers know ... specifically those in pictures 3, 6 and 9, above. Then you'll be ready for space flights whenever openings show up in the near future. Write now to:

Famous Space Travelers School
Box 86, Cape Kennedy, Fla.

Name
Address
City State

Ten famous swindlers start home-study course

Now—you can learn to cheat, embezzle, defraud—and then live a glorious life abroad

You have doubtlessly heard the expression "Crime does not pay!" Well, it really doesn't if you bother with low-class crimes like burglary, mugging, pickpocketing, etc. But just think for a moment of how often you've read about a politician, for example, whose salary is, say $15,000 a year, and after three years in office, he's worth $9,000,000. There's a big stir for a while, the politician resigns, the thing blows over, and he lives happily and wealthily ever after. That's class. And that's what our ten expert instructors have in common.

Many of them, the best shady money-making brains in the world, were heretofore unavailable to eager students. Only through this home-study course can we now offer the talents of some of the world's great citizens who are living in luxury and safety in countries that do not have extradition laws. At last, these highly-respected swindlers are ready to share their secrets with you. Enroll now and learn how you can live out your years spending other people's money in some far-off Utopia.

Famous Swindlers School
Dept. 76, Rio de Janeiro, Brazil

Name
Address
City State

Ten famous ad men start home-study course

Now—no matter how stupid or untalented you are, you can make it big in the advertising game

At last—the real low-down from these ten highly-qualified ad men. What makes them so highly qualified, you ask? Is it because of the big accounts they've handled? Is it because of the new concepts in sales and promotions they've created? Have they written memorable slogans or otherwise added to the prestige of advertising? The answer is a resounding NO! On the contrary, they were clientless failures who were about to close up shop when a group of dazed and ragged illustrators staggered into their agency several years ago with a hair-brained scheme for starting a correspondence school. As a last fling into what should have been certain failure, they brainstormed up one of their typically simpleminded, uninspired ads with the headline, "Ten famous illustrators start home-study course". Well, the rest is history. The idea caught on, the money poured in, and they became famous for this type of advertising. But now, other ad agencies are getting into the act with other correspondence schools, and the future is beginning to look black. So they decided to offer this home-study course which teaches how to write ads for home-study courses. Enroll today!

Famous Ad Men School
Box 72, Madison Avenue, N. Y.

Name
Address
City State

A FINE DAY IN THE CITY

A MAD LOOK AT WINTER

SPORTS

ARTIST & WRITER: SERGIO ARAGONES

SOFTENING THE BLOW-UPS DEPT.

In order to save time, labor, and money, many organizations, corporations, and Government bureaus use "Form Answer-Letters" to acknowledge correspondence. Unfortunately, these "Form Answer-Letters" are always rather general in nature — merely thanking people for writing or showing interest. They rarely

SPECIFIC "FORM A THERE REALLY

WRITER:

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR The City Of New York

Dear Citizen:

Sorry you were mugged!

Although we are constantly seeking means to protect decent citizens like yourself from the lawless elements that abound in our community, it is difficult in a city of this size for our police force to be everywhere at once. Therefore, an occasional mugger or rapist or pervert will slip through.

However, please be assured that we are making every effort to see that this does not happen to you too often.

Once again, sorry for the inconvenience this has caused you.

Sincerely yours,

Robert F. Wagner
The Honorable
Robert F. Wagner,
Mayor

PLAYBOY

232 east ohio chicago 11, illinois

Dear Playboy Reader:

Hi, guy!

Thank you for your note concerning Miss _____ who was Playboy's "Playmate of the Month" for _____.

We were extremely interested in your vivid remarks about her physical endowments, and although you did get rather "carried away" verbally, we found your "earthy" comments and inquiries to be typical of most of our sophisticated, healthy, normal, red-blooded urban male readers.

As to your request, we'd love to help you out, fellah, but we're afraid we cannot reveal the information of a very personal nature that you have requested about our "Playmate of the Month," Miss _____.

As for your desire to know "what really happened" at the photography session for this particular "Playmate", well—let us just say that it was another one of our "normal" photography sessions.

Thank you for your interest and enthusiasm.

Sincerely,

Hugh
Hugh M. Hefner,
Editor and Publisher get down to specifics. Which brings us to this specific article: "Form Answer-Letters" could certainly be specific in cases where many thousands of letters pour in—each having the same basic "comment" or asking the same "question" or making the same "complaint." So here are some MAD suggestions for:

ANSWER-LETTERS" OUGHT TO BE

ARNIE KOGEN

Makers Of The Multimillion Dollar Production—

CLEOPATRA

20TH-CENTURY-FOX
Hollywood, California

Dear Movie-Goer:

We are indeed sorry to hear that you feel that way about a motion picture in which we take such great pride, and which we consider to be one of our greatest achievements.

Surely, a film that received three Academy Awards in 1964, and features such outstanding stars as Elizabeth Taylor, Richard Burton, Rex Harrison and a screen beloved--Roddy McDowell, cannot be the "bomb" you say it is.

In any case, we appreciate your comments, and hope that your judgement of this particular production will not discolor your opinions of future 20th Century-Fox efforts.

We trust we will have the pleasure of your continued attendance.

Very truly yours,

Joseph L. Mankiewicz
Joseph L. Mankiewicz
In Charge Of Movie-Goer
Correspondence (Formerly Producer of "Cleopatra")

CBS TELEVISION

51 WEST 52ND STREET
NEW YORK, N.Y.

Dear Viewer:

Thank you for your recent letter of comment on "The Beverly Hillbillies" and/or "Petticoat Junction".

We of course value, and will take into careful consideration, your opinions as to the show's aesthetic, entertainment and educational values. We also noted with interest the age-level you felt the show appeals to.

However, in spite of your suggestions as to what to do with programs of this nature, we plan to continue presenting "The Beverly Hillbillies" and/or "Petticoat Junction" since the ratings are so high.

Yours truly,
Lois Standards
Lois Standards
Vice President in charge of Programming

CANDID CAMERA

60 West 55th Street, New York, N.Y.

Dear Candid Camera Fan:—

In reference to your recent inquiry concerning Durward Kirby and his "exact function" on our show:

We believe Mr. Kirby is a pleasant and appealing television personality. He has warmth and charm, and throughout the years in connection with many successful broadcasting endeavors, he has attracted a large and loyal following. We are sure that you will agree with us that a man of this calibre is a welcome addition to any TV show.

As to "what he does" or "why he's necessary" or "what his exact job is" on our show, we are referring your letter to the CBS Research Department. Perhaps they can help you . . . and us.

Sincerely,

Will B. Fired

Will B. Fired
Assistant to Mr. Funt

The Saturday Evening POST

641 Lexington Avenue, New York, N. Y.

Gentlemen:

We are in receipt of your letter of intent to bring suit against us for libel, slander and misrepresentation of fact.

We have every confidence that the author of the article entitled: _____

_____ in the issue of The Saturday Evening Post dated _____ has substantial evidence to support the statements that you claim were personally damaging to you.

Please be advised that this matter is now in the hands of our attorneys who will be getting in touch with you shortly in an effort to reach an amicable settlement.

Sincerely,

B. D. Fensive

B. D. Fensive
Assistant Editor
in charge of
Law Suits

The Ford Motor Company

THE AMERICAN ROAD, DEARBORN, MICHIGAN

The Ford Family Of Fine Automotive Products
LINCOLN, MERCURY, EDSEL, THUNDERBIRD, FORD MUSTANG

Dear New Owner:

We deeply regret hearing about the trouble you've been having with your brand new _____.

We at Ford pride ourselves on the performance and quality of each and every automobile we produce. We take all necessary precautions to see to it that the product you purchase is perfect in every way. The materials and labor that go into it are of the highest quality, and every one of our cars are checked, tested, then re-tested and re-checked before it is allowed to leave our plant.

However, with millions of Fords, Lincolns, Mercurys, Thunderbirds and ^{MUSTANGS} Edsels manufactured and sold each year, there is always the possibility, as there is with almost every product of a mechanical nature, that a few will need some slight further adjustments after they are purchased.

We are certain that if you drive it a while longer, the kinks will work themselves out, and the difficulties and circumstances that caused you, in your letter, to refer to your new car as a "lemon" will disappear.

Very truly yours,

Sidney J. Edsel

Sidney J. Edsel, Manager
Ford Motor Company
Quality Control Division

MAD

850 THIRD AVENUE, N. Y., N. Y.

If you don't like it . . .
DON'T READ IT!!

ABF

Al Feldstein,
Editor

In this, its seventh installment, "The MAD Information Service" continues to inform Americans about America—by presenting

THE SIGHTS OF THE

THIS ISSUE—SPOTLIGHTING
FT. WORTH
TEXAS

WRITERS:

WRITERS:
LARRY SIEGEL & FRANK JACOBS

SICK-SICK-SLICK DEPT.

Here we go with another MAD suggestion to all the money-hungry publishers who want to cash in on the vast untapped audiences for today's "specialized magazines"—this one to appeal to the largest untapped audience of all. Why not put out . . .

MARCH
1965

NEUROTIC MAGAZINE

5^c
PER COPY

(AT THIS PRICE WE'LL LOSE A FORTUNE, BUT THAT'S OKAY SINCE
WE HAVE A TERRIBLE
FEAR OF SUCCESS)

This Month's Cover Story:

"THEY MAY ALL DENY IT, BUT I KNOW THEY'RE REALLY LAUGHING AT ME!"

by Henry Verflebum

MENTAL HEALTH —AND HOW TO AVOID IT
by George Lincoln
Rockwell

WHEN THEY ACCUSED ME OF A CRIME I DID NOT COMMIT
I REFUSED TO DENY IT
BECAUSE I CRAVE ATTENTION
by Orville Weekego

LOVE WITHOUT FEAR, ANXIETY, OR A PARTNER
by Narcissus
Nussbaum

I FAILED MY EYE-SIGHT TEST
RATHER THAN SOUND FOOLISH
BY MISPRONOUNCING THE WORDS ON THE EYE CHART
by Arthur Blobb

HOW TO OVERCOME YOUR SHYNESS
by (Author Anonymous)

COMPULSIVE COLLECTOR'S CORNER
Save That Burned-Out Fuse—
You Never Know When You Might Need It For Something Or Other
by Grace Klutcher

LET PLASTIC SURGERY FREE YOU FROM ANXIETIES

Mr. R. L. writes . . .

"I used to have a beautiful straight nose that made me quite handsome. And this created great problems for me. Being afraid of girls, I would shudder whenever they flocked around me, making demands upon me that I knew I was unable to meet. When people stared at me, I felt as though I were deceiving them—looking bold and handsome on the outside but feeling small and ugly on the inside. I didn't want to be loved for my looks—but for my mind. After I had my nose fixed, all my problems disappeared. Also, all the girls disappeared. But at least I don't have the anxieties of having to live up to standards that were thrust upon me by a cruel trick of fate!"

Do as Mr. R. L. did . . .

CALL FOR AN APPOINTMENT TODAY!
STACEY INSTITUTE OF PLASTIC SURGEONS

"We Correct Nature's Mistakes!"

EMBARRASSED WHEN THE DOCTOR VISITS

...because you don't look as sick as you feel!

Ever call a doctor in the middle of the night because you were running 105° fever? And when he finally came, were you terribly embarrassed because you didn't look very sick? Well, now you can avoid this problem with CARVER'S LITTLE FEVER PILLS. These scientific pills make you look as sick as you are, and give you the wonderful feeling that you were justified in calling a doctor to treat your raging fever. Take one pill for every degree of temperature over normal. For example: If you have 104.6°, take 6 pills. We guarantee you'll look absolutely awful.

CARVER'S LITTLE FEVER PILLS

THE INQUIRING neurotic

QUESTION: Are you neurotic? (Asked of people stuck in an elevator between floors for two hours)

MR. ARAM PITTS Advertising Executive

No, you can rest assured that I am not neurotic. A neurotic is someone who cannot find the proper outlets for his anxieties, so he chain-smokes or over-eats or indulges too heavily in alcohol. I do none of these things. I merely keep calm by rolling these two steel balls in my hand.

MISS RITA COPLEY Private Secretary

I guess I am neurotic. I get depressed very often. And when I do, I say to myself, "This, too, shall pass!" But, unfortunately, it doesn't work too well. Because when it passes, and I'm feeling happy again, I also say to myself, "This, too, shall pass!"

MR. LOUIS STRIKER Taxi Cab Driver

I ain't no neurotic, but there are plenty of weirdos running around loose. See dat guy over there pretending to mind his own business? He's one! I can tell by the way he's dressed—all Ivy League. I'll bet he thinks he's better than me. He probably hates me 'cause I'm different from him. Guys like dat should be put away. Anyone who hates a total stranger is sick.

DR. WOLFGANG SCHMIDT Psychiatrist

I am not neurotic, but some of my patients are. And then again, some are normal. It is difficult to classify a person in advance, so I have developed a system for determining if a patient of mine is neurotic or normal. If he gets better, he was neurotic. If he gets worse, he was normal.

MISS MINERVA MINESTRONE Maiden Aunt

Oh—so you finally got around to asking me! Why am I always the last one? Why am I always the last in everything? Nobody cares about me, that's why! Everyone thinks he can abuse me because "good old Minerva" doesn't mind. Well, "good old Minerva" does mind! From now on, it's me first! UNDERSTAND!? I'M THROUGH BEING A DOORMAT FOR EVERYONE! I'M THROUGH BEING ABUSED! I'M THROUGH DOING . . .

How Neurosis Brought Our Family Together Again

by SEYMOUR MELMAC

OH, WHAT FOND MEMORIES I cherish of those first months of our marriage. Velda and I were the perfect couple. We shared everything together—like our feelings of inadequacy and insecurity at cocktail parties when someone would mention an author we never heard of . . . or our feelings of persecution when the butcher or the druggist would over-charge us. And then there were those wonderful nights when we would lie awake, just making plans for escaping new situations, or discussing people who had rejected us during the day. It was a time that glowed with the warmth of our mutual unhappiness.

But as the months rolled by, Velda became restless. With me working, she had a lot of time on her hands. Time to conjure up her own neurotic fantasies. She soon developed a deep suspicion of people, and spent all day worrying that someone wanted to do her bodily harm. At first, I was glad that she had this preoccupation, since it gave her something to do and filled her day. But then, it got out of hand. Tragedy struck!

One day, I returned home from work to find Velda gone! A week passed and she did not return. I was desperate. I wanted to call her folks, but I didn't, for fear of upsetting them and having them hate me for bringing bad news.

After weeks of loneliness, I found that I, too, was falling prey to the same suspicions that had so cruelly victimized my wife. Suddenly, I, too, began to feel that someone was after me and wanted to do me bodily harm. Although I fought it, the feeling was too powerful. One night, I yielded to my fears. I double-locked the door, propped a chair against it, and nailed all the windows shut. Then I searched the apartment. After looking into every closet, I suddenly realized that the best place for an assassin to hide would be under the bed. I knelt down . . . and to my horror, I heard someone breathing!

Summoning all my courage, I looked. And I was shocked! There, under the bed, was Velda, my wife! She had been hiding there for two months. You can imagine the warm feeling that flowed through me when I realized that I had not been alone all that time. And to this day, I am still thankful for the neurosis that put Velda under the bed, and for mine that made me look. Now, it's almost like old times again. We lie awake at night, talking about the people who are taking advantage of us . . . as we hold hands through the bedsprings.

The neurotic of the

Each month, we show a day in the life of a person who best exemplifies the typical neurotic. This month, we applaud (but not too loudly, because we do not want to burden him with a feeling that he now has to live up to something):

Woodrow Reifschneider

8:00 A.M.

Every morning, for breakfast, Woodrow eats hot cereal. Actually, he loathes hot cereal . . . but his mother loves to baby him. Woodrow would like to tell his mother that he's a grown man, but he's afraid—because then she might expect him to act like one. So every day, he pretends to love hot cereal.

9:15 A.M.

One of the secretaries where Woodrow works appeals to him, but he's afraid to ask her for a date—because if she said “No!” he'd be so humiliated that he'd have to quit his job. And since he must support his mother, Woodrow compliments himself for not becoming involved in a “dangerous situation”.

10:22 A.M.

During the morning, something happens to Woodrow to reinforce his feelings of persecution. Sent on an errand to a part of town he has never been in before, he steps on a glob of gum as he walks down a strange street. “How did they know I was going to walk on this street today?” he asks himself.

5:00 P.M.

When the pretty secretary leaves with the goofy mail room boy, Woodrow knows he was right in not asking her for a date. “If she can go out with a clod like that, she's not the kind of a girl to appreciate me!” He decides to call the bright girl he met at the library, but puts it off. “She's probably out tonight — and if she's not, why should I go out with someone so unpopular?”

6:30 P.M.

Woodrow's mother believes her son should start his dinner with something hot, and so she serves him some warmed-over oatmeal from his breakfast—knowing how very much Woodrow seemed to enjoy it that morning.

11:15 P.M.

Before going to sleep for the night, Woodrow watches the “Late Movie.” He really hates the idiotic commercials that keep interrupting the movie, but he feels too guilty to ignore them. “Gee,” he tells himself, “companies pay lots of money to put their ads on TV. The least I can do is watch them!”

12:44 P.M.

At lunch, which he always eats alone, Woodrow summons up all his courage and actually decides to add up the check. To his horror, he finds that the waiter made a mistake in addition and has overcharged him $2. Naturally he doesn't say anything about it . . . since Woodrow hates unpleasant scenes.

1:00 A.M.

In bed, Woodrow visualizes himself in a courtroom being cross-examined by the shrewdest lawyer in the country. With brilliant, rapier-like remarks, Woodrow cuts him dead time and again, making the lawyer look the fool. The smile on Woodrow's face is reassuring to his mother when she tucks him in.

Dear Dr. Jungblood:

I have a terrible compulsion to answer the phone whenever it rings, but I also have a terrible fear that it might be bad news—especially when it rings after 10:00 P.M. What do you suggest?

Dorothy Longo
Ypsilanti, Mich.

Dear Dotty:

Try this: Next time the phone rings, say, "The number you have called has been temporarily disconnected—this is a recording!" The party will hang up without telling you the bad news he probably called you about. In fact, now he'll start worrying about why your phone has been temporarily disconnected.

Dear Dr. Jungblood:

I am a teenager. I keep my room spotlessly clean and neat, I never stay out past my curfew on a date, and I always obey my mother immediately whenever she asks me to do something. Yet she is constantly yelling and screaming at me. What can I do? It's terrible living with a neurotic!

Selma Frum
Brooklyn, N. Y.

Dear Selma:

Yes, Selma, it is terrible living with a neurotic! No wonder your mother is constantly yelling and screaming at you! Why not try acting like a normal teenager for a change.

Dear Dr. Jungblood:

Every time I go out to dinner or a movie, I always become tense and anxious as the evening ends. But when I say, "It's been a lovely evening, please don't spoil it!", my husband always gets angry. What should I do?

Faye Welch
Boston, Mass.

Dear Faye:

Actually, it's not your problem. It's your husband's problem. After all these years, he still does not seem to realize that you're just not that type of girl!

Dear Dr. Jungblood:

I am mortally afraid of mice. Last week at a party, I saw a mouse and I jumped on a chair and pulled my dress over my head.

Do you think I have a problem?

Irving Blintz
Chicago, Ill.

Dear Irving:

You have no problem that I can see, and you should not concern yourself. It is perfectly normal of any boy who wears a dress to be afraid of mice!

Dear Dr. Jungblood:

Every time my mother and father go out, I worry that they will forget me and never come back home. This fear is not something new with me—I've had it for the past thirty-five years.

Paul Klotz
San Francisco, Cal.

Dear Paul:

I am surprised that a man of your age should have such a problem. You should know by now that Mummy and Daddy would never do a thing like that!

Dear Dr. Jungblood:

I am a teenager. Last week I went to a party wearing patched dungarees, a torn sweatshirt and old sneakers. When I came in, I thought I heard some of the kids laughing at me. Do you think they were laughing at the way I looked, or am I over-sensitive?

Susan Leigh
Merrick, N. Y.

Dear Susan:

Yes, they were probably laughing at the way you looked. No one comes dressed formal to a teenage party.

Dear Dr. Jungblood:

I am a 67-year-old spinster living alone in New York City. Every day I see men eyeing women and read about attackers on the prowl. Should I get a double lock and bolt for my door, or would that be too neurotic?

Hortense Freep
New York City

Dear Hortense:

By all means, fix your door. And when you come home at night, make sure your door is double locked and bolted from the inside. This is not neurotic. If there's an assailant in your apartment, it'll make it tougher for him to get out.

ALONG THE PSYCHO PATH

by TRAUMA TISHMAN

Frieda Maltz became a kleptomaniac because she craved love and needed to be wanted. Now she is—by police in three states . . . Rickie Hall is showing improvement. He no longer argues with recorded telephone messages . . . Rita Samuels reports that her therapy group is planning a theater party to raise money so they can buy identical jackets . . . And talking about psychiatry—actor Bill Burner, who was so promising in those romantic “leading man” parts, but was afraid to face an audience, has just completed his therapy. Now he’s too old to play romantic “leading man” parts . . . Want a good rainy day activity? Just sit down and start thinking of all the things you should feel guilty about! DEPARTMENT OF SHOCKING NEWS: After 42 years, Ellen and Bill Quinlin have decided on a trial separation. Ellen is Bill’s mother. Friends say it won’t last, though. If you have a minute to spare, drop a sympathy card to hypochondriac Irv Zinn. Seems Irv went to the doctor recently and got a clean bill of health . . . Frank Allen’s on his way toward conquering his inordinate fear of flying. He now talks out his problem with his co-pilot on their daily N. Y.-to-Washington TWA flights . . . Bob Drubman quit his job because he didn’t get that raise. “I knew that cheapskate boss wouldn’t give me a raise,” he told us, “so I didn’t even ask him!”

* * * * *

Rumor has it that Phil Garten suffered terrible feelings of rejection when he didn’t make his school basketball team. Too bad for Phil—he’s got enough problems just being a midget . . . Len Brown is broken-hearted because his brother won’t make up and shake hands with him. Len’s a compulsive nose-picker . . . If you have nothing to do, you might spend some evening wondering if your phone is being tapped—and who would want to do such a thing—and why? Then you can start worrying about what they’ve got on you so far! ALL’S WELL THAT ENDS WELL DEPARTMENT: Louise Sugerman wanted to invite her neighbors, the Gribbles, to a dinner party—which meant she’d also have to invite her other neighbors, the Judds, so they wouldn’t feel insulted. But the Judds were good friends of Louise’s cousins and they’d hear about it so she’d have to invite them—which meant inviting the rest of her cousins—also her uncles and aunts—and she could not have the whole family without inviting her sister and brother-in-law. So she was delighted to get out of the uncomfortable situation by coming down with double pneumonia. . . . Also greatly relieved was mailroom clerk Albie Knadel, whose boss frowns on gambling. Albie just learned that he didn’t win the Irish Sweepstakes again this year. Herman Mushgum, who has a fetish about always being right actually admitted he erred once in his life—about ten years ago, when he said “No one is perfect!”. . . Hope that Arthur and Rose Blitz enjoy their vacation in Maine. The Blitz’s were headed for Connecticut, but got lost—and Arthur hates to impose on anyone by asking for directions. HATS OFF DEPARTMENT: Hats off to the parents of Little Leaguers who are giving their children things they never had, like feelings of rejection and inadequacy. . . .

* * * * *

Hats off to Oscar Levant for not hiding it, but being proud of his neurosis, and appearing on nationwide television programs like “The Jack Paar Show” to prove that neurotics are as good as the next person—except maybe at lighting cigarettes . . . Hats off to Jack Paar for his ability to see the humor inherent in people with neurotic problems. How many times have each of us wanted to make fun of people with neuroses, but didn’t because we haven’t the courage of Mr. Paar . . . Hats off to Barry Goldwater for not being afraid to say what he feels, whether it makes sense or not. Next time you feel you haven’t the right to your ill-founded opinions, think of this brave man . . . Pity poor Mrs. Fanny Fishman who for years couldn’t find anyone good enough to marry her daughter. Now Fanny can’t find anyone old enough to marry her daughter . . . Ken Bagel, who never joined in conversations for fear people would laugh at his stuttering finally took speech lessons. Now people who hear him talk for the first time are amazed. They never guessed he was so stupid. In closing, let me paraphrase the wise words of the great Garry Moore: “Be very kind to each other—and pray they’ll be very kind to you!”

NEUROTIC CLASSIFIED ADS

HELP WANTED

SLEEP-IN PSYCHIATRIST, for large sick family. Own room, TV, every Thursday and every other Sunday off. Light cleaning. No cooking. $450 per week or by the hour. Box 66.

BUMBLING INEFFECTIVE IDIOT ASSISTANT, wanted by Executive of successful firm to replace my son who finally told me off and quit. I need someone I can scream at and blame for my own inadequacies. Box 48.

FOR SALE

BACK DATE CALENDARS. We have calendars from 1910 to 1963. Relive your good year. Send $1.00 to “That Wonderful Year Calendar Company,” Oshkosh, Ill.

STRING. I have thousands and thousands of miles of string which I have collected over the years. My whole house is filled with string. Imminent death in family, mainly my own from strangulation, forces me to sell. Write Box 52.

REAL ESTATE

ROOM TO RENT. I am looking for a young woman with tremendous hostility toward older people, who resents suggestions of any kind, and throws temper tantrums regularly. My daughter was married recently, and I miss having her around the house. Box 92.

PERSONAL

ALVIN, my darling son, please come home. I love you very much, and I’m worried sick about you. I cannot live without you. Please return. You’ve been gone all afternoon. Your loving Mother.

ALVIN, keep on going. I haven’t received so much attention since the day you were born and I love it. Your jealous Dad.

SITUATION WANTED

SLIGHTLY DISTURBED YOUNG MAN seeks position with local firm. Willing to start at the bottom, where you will probably keep me and exploit me until I crack up from exhaustion because I know your type. Box 77.

MISCELLANEOUS

MAKE MONEY IN YOUR SPARE TIME. Sell greeting cards to your friends. If they’re as neurotic as you, they’ll rather die than refuse. Write Impo-sition Sales, Yonkers, N. Y.

STAMPS, COINS, ROCKS AND OTHER COLLECTORS’ ITEMS. We have a complete line of Hobby materials. Why face the real world and its real problems when you can bury yourself in some all-consuming hobby and thereby escape reality? Write for free catalogue. OSTRICH ENTERPRISES, Box 19.

THE SPECTATOR

COURT JESTING DEPT.

Here we go again with MAD's little game which consists of taking typical action sports shots—like the kind we've been subjected to in newspapers and magazines—and captioning them with appropriate idiotic remarks. Like f'rinstance these

BASKETBALL

FOTO-PLAYS

WRITER:
ARNIE
KOGEN

PHOTOS BY WIDE WORLD AND U.P.I.

THE LIGHTER SIDE OF

WHAT!? But this is ridiculous! You're much too early! Come back when you're supposed to!

Hi, Mrs.
Bottnik!
We're here for Marcy's party!

For the hundredth time, NOT YET! I thought the invitation made it quite clear about the time!

Yes, we know! But we can't wait!!

Well, you'll just have to be patient till tomorrow!!

Tell them to go home!

But, Suzy darling! WHY??

They gave me my presents!
What more do they want??

I don't want Jimmy Braddock to come to my Birthday Party . . . because he rode my bike without asking me!

How do you like the nerve of those Campbells!? They had a Kiddie Party and didn't invite our Jimmy! If I were you, I'd take my business somewhere else besides Campbell and Co.!

kids' parties

ARTIST & WRITER: DAVE BERG

HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO YOU ...
HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO YOU ...

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, DEAR
WEN-N-N-D-E-EEEE ...

HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO YOU!!

I'd like a Birthday present for a four-year-old boy!

Well, let's see ... the young man might like this Tommy Gun, or this Fire Engine, or this big Bass Drum, or this ...

I'll take the big Bass Drum!

I can't stand his mother!!

Honey, without the Braddock account, we're not going to make it! I'm afraid we'll have to pull up stakes and start all over somewhere else!

Sorry, dear! There's no room for it on the moving van, so I'm afraid you'll have to leave your bike behind!

Here, Jimmy! You can keep my bike!

How do you like the nerve of that Betty's mother—calling at the last minute to invite you to Betty's party!

So what!? I can be dressed in 15 minutes, and while you're driving me over, we can stop at the toy store for a present!

Not on your life! Don't you have any pride? This is an insult! Who does she think she is, anyway?

There are any number of good explanations! It was probably an oversight!

Oversight, my foot! You're not going, and that's final! And what's more, I'm never going to talk to that woman again!

Oh, Mom . . . please don't make a thing out of it!

What do you know?! You wouldn't understand! You're just a little girl, and I'm a grown up lady!!

All right, Mitchell! Make a wish, and blow out the candles!

Hold it! Lemme get a good tight shot of this!

Watch it, kids, you're jiggling the camera! HEY . . . WATCH IT!!

Well, what do you know?! I got my wish!

Hello, Aunt Shirley . . .

HELLO, AUNT SHIRLEY!

I want to thank you for the birthday present you sent me!

I WANT TO THANK YOU FOR THE BIRTHDAY PRESENT YOU SENT ME!

The T-Shirts and Underwear are just what I needed! I can't wait to wear them! Thank you very much!

THE T-SHIRTS AND UNDERWEAR ARE JUST WHAT I NEEDED! I CAN'T WAIT TO WEAR THEM! THANK YOU VERY MUCH!

TELL YOUR MOTHER SHE'S WELCOME!

David Beron

NO SALE DEPT.

When a company advertises on television, it pays a rate based on the number of idiots who are likely to see the commercial. Which seems pretty stupid to us. The rate should be based on the number of idiots who are likely to see the commercial AND are also likely to buy the product! Mainly because some advertisers are squandering fortunes to bring their messages to the wrong people. Just look at these . . .

TV COMMERCIALS.

How about this familiar message—aimed at the people who are concerned about the amount of food they consume daily?

It's wasted on the folks who live in Appalachia who really are concerned about the amount of food they consume daily!

Many men are interested in the Stainless Steel Razor Derby:

Many, that is . . . but not all . . .

Here is a commercial that features an alluring girl with a sexy voice—appealing to the male vanity. How can it miss?

Ahh, but it can . . . by a mile!

I want to talk to all you tigers out there! Oh . . . you know who you are!

..AND SOME FOLKS WHO COULDN'T CARE LESS

ARTIST: JACK RICKARD WRITER: STAN HART

This summertime commercial might have meaning for some...

... but there are others upon whom it is completely lost!

Don't be a pale-face—get out in the sun! Get a Coppertone . . . Coppertone tan!

This late-night ad is directed at people with a problem:

However, after watching a full night of moronic, dull TV commercials, the average person never even sees this ad!

Do you toss and turn all night? Now you can get safe, effective sleep with Nytol!

SPY VS SPY VS SPY

WHAT TIME DOES THE BABOON GO UP? DEPT.

Nowadays, when you go to the movies, you see sickness, violence, murder . . . and that's only the cartoon! Films today have deep psychological meanings and shock endings. What ever happened to all the good old movies where you knew the ending long before you entered the theater, but you sat there engrossed, anyway? Today, when Hollywood speaks of "monster" movies, they mean anything starring Tuesday Weld. In the good old days, when they spoke of "monster" movies, they meant such great flicks as "King Kong," "Son of Kong" and "Mighty Joe Young." And so, in an attempt to bring back the good old days, MAD proudly presents:

SON OF MIGHTY JOE KONG

STARRING:

JAMES GARNER DORIS DAY DICK VAN DYKE

as

as

as

Robert Headstrong

Rae Faye

Bruce Cabbage

and RICHARD BURTON in his greatest character role as the

SON OF MIGHTY JOE KONG

Illustrated by Mort Drucker

Written by Dick De Bartolo

Deep dark Africa . . . hundreds of miles from civilization . . . and even a good ten miles from the nearest Howard Johnson's!

The next morning...

ROARRRR

Two o'clock, nothing! I'm taking a wild guess, but I'll bet that was the signal calling for the legendary giant ape SON OF MIGHTY JOE KONG!!

It's either that, or this movie will have to have a different title!

ROARRRR

The sound is getting closer!

I'm scared!

Scared?! Pull yourself together! Are you a very sexy man . . . or are you a mouse?!

Good Lord, look!! It's an ape at least forty feet tall!! And that's without shoes!

Outside of Jayne Mansfield, that's the most awesome sight I have ever seen!

People would pay a fortune to see this beast! If only we could get him back to the States!

But how?

We could give him a tranquilizer!

How can you give a giant ape a tranquilizer?

In a glass of water??

I've got a better idea! I'll read to him from this copy of the "Reader's Digest"! That always puts me to sleep!

I've got an even better idea! I once sent away for one of those "Learn Hypnotism" courses, and . . .

Never mind! Our problem is solved! This dull dialogue put him to sleep!

Next stop—New York!!

One month later . . . on bustling Broadway, in New York . . .

OPENING TONIGHT!
RAE FAYE
and her
GIANT APE

See The Eighth Wonder Of The World!

I know it's a little unusual for someone to order a size 1000 tuxedo, but get it over here immediately! And I also need a pair of cuff-links about two feet in diameter! Hurry! Good-bye!!

Does the beast have everything down pat?

Yes, Rae knows every step—

Not her!! The APE!!

Yes, but I think you're pushing that ape too far—rehearsing him day and night—making him wear silly hats—giving him dancing lessons . . .

I send him flowers every day! What more can I do?

Five minutes! Five minutes to the opening—

Gentlemen! A fanfare please . . .

RAT TAT TAT RAT TAT TAT

Those drums! Those incessant drums—beating, beating!!

Enough is enough, already, Rae! Now you and Kong go out there and stamp your way into the hearts of that audience . . .

. . . while we pray that the stage doesn't collapse!

RAT TAT TAT

Just me and my shadow . . . strolling down the avenue . . . Me and my shadow . . . all alone and feeling blue . . .*

Great!

That ape certainly knows how to ape!

Sensational!

Best 40-foot dancing ape I ever saw!

Mr. Headstrong! How about going onstage and getting some shots of Rae and the ape while they're performing!

Okay! Rae is the one without the chains!

Hey! He seems upset about something!

Naturally! You're shooting the wrong side! His right side is his good side!

C'mon, Kong! Smile!

Say: "Banana"!

Those flash bulbs are driving him crazy! He's breaking loose!!

Quick! Get Kong's contract! I'm sure it doesn't have an Escape Clause ...

I've heard of people walking out on bad performances ... but this is ridiculous!!

He's wrecking that subway train!

He probably never had trains when he was a child!

Er ... would you mind putting me down at Fourteenth Street?

Let me at that ape! I know karate ...!

Any word from Kong?

Nothing! Not even the decency of a phone call!

Rae! You're crying!

And what are you doing with that Hula Hoop?

That's no Hula-Hoop! It's a Wedding Band! For —sob— KONG!!

For KONG?!

Yes, I'm in love with him! I was going to ask him to marry me!

You and Kong—married! Rae, that's crazy! Insane! Absurd! You know you come from different racial and religious backgrounds!

And think of your future Mother-In-Law! I know—they're supposed to be beasts, but yours will be ridiculous!

Telegram!

HERE WE GO WITH ANOTHER CLEVER, WITTY AND RIDICULOUS

MAD FOLD-IN

The recent national election was one of the roughest, dirtiest and mudslingingest in history. Each political party accused the other of the worst things possible, and everyone took a beating, regardless of whether he won or lost. Now we should try to bind up the wounds. If you fold page in as shown, you'll discover...

FOLD IN PAGE LIKE THIS

WHICH NATIONAL SYMBOL IS GOING TO NEED THE BIGGEST REPAIR JOB?

A ▶

FOLD THIS SECTION OVER LEFT

◀ B

FOLD BACK SO "A" MEETS "B"

THE BITTER PUNISHMENT THAT THESE TWO GREAT AMERICAN POLITICAL SYMBOLS TOOK IS NOW MAKING
EACH WINCE WITH PAIN AT THE SLIGHTEST WIGGLE

Written and Illustrated
by AL JAFFEE

Photography by (hic) Leshter Krauss 'n' "D.T.'s" by (hic) good ol' Bob Clarke

After the most hair-raising adventure of my life, I took the pledge and swore off booze!

1 "They were all around me!" writes Sid Tippler, an ex-friend of Canadian Club. "I could see them so clearly—bats and mice and pink elephants and blue alligators and green snakes and a million cockroaches—all laughing, shrieking and dancing the cha-cha."

2 "I started my weekend as usual by hocking my trusty typewriter. That gave me all the loot I needed."

3 "Back in my room, I settled down to some serious boozing with the 4-day supply I'd bought."

4 "After my wild adventure, I rushed down to my local A.A. Chapter—and swore off!"

Do yourself a favor!
Take the pledge now—today! Swear off . . .

Canadian Club

. . . or Four Roses or Cutty Sark or any other brand! They're all the same! Mainly, if you drink enough whiskey, you could end up like Sid Tippler—an Alcoholic with the "D.T.'s"!

PRESENTED AS A PUBLIC SERVICE WARNING BY ALCOHOLICS ANONYMOUS—CHAPTERS EVERYWHERE

HERE WE GO WITH

MAD

The recent national and mudslinging
other of the worst regardless of what up the wounds. If

FOLD IN PAGE LIKE THIS

WHICH IS GOING TO NEED A JOB?

A < B FOLD BACK SO "A" MEETS "B"

THE AMERICAN

EAGLE

Written and Illustrated
by AL JAFFEE